Bobby,

I trust the email finds you well, after discussions regarding the ASG Training Asset, there seems to be a tremendous amount of redundancy between, APEA, TEAC, AITAGS, ANTAS, APSTC. After much discussion, it seems it would be better served that APEA is the "national" credentialing and accrediting authority. TEAC would facilitate the actual classroom and hands on training. Do we need to keep ANTAS and APSTC or roll those into TEAC? Also, would it be better served to incorporate AITAGS into APEA as the total credentialing authority while TEAC would be the inaugural accredited campus for all Credentialing related to the Certified personnel. We wanted to get your thoughts and feedback on this.

Second topic we need to bring to your attention is the fact of the message I forwarded via text the other day regarding the coordinator training call on April 16, 2026 where a former involved individual asked Anna regarding the US Patent Office and how they should handle protecting or patenting "health and safety" related information before someone else does as time is of the essence. I'm not certain if any of the Apps, Dashboards, software, etc. that any of us have working on could be wrapped up in those comments. The only reason I'm bringing this forward is my wife immediately called me about it as she felt that is had to do with some of the things we've been working one whether it's the Dashboard, Sentinel, or any of the Apps I've previously coded for APC/SOCOMM. After the meeting, Kenny said that Kimberly has a similar response to this as my wife. With this said, what IP do we need do what Anna recommended, which is file a Basic Copyright and record it with the state/county recorder (privately) that claims the patent interest under a sovereign letters patent.

Let us know what your thoughts and ideas are so we can take action on anything that needs to be safeguarded.

Respectfully,

By: Robert Beard Jr ©
